For immediate release:

Lincolnshire, Illinois June 23, 2015:

Digi-Trax® Corporation and the Eye Bank Association of America (EBAA) are pleased to announce their partnership to provide EBAA members with CorneaTrax software. This collaboration will allow all EBAA members to be compliant with ISBT 128 labeling standards.

The CorneaTrax program was born out of a change made to EBAA's Medical Standards in November, 2014, requiring all EBAA-member eye banks to be ISBT 128 compliant by January 2017. EBAA wanted to provide a solution to help its members meet this requirement, and turned to Digi-Trax, which had a long history of successful implementation in the blood banking field. Within a few months, Digi-Trax had built a prototype program, beta tested it with a group of eye bankers EBAA assembled, and made refinements to ensure that the product met its clients' needs.

"Since we created this mandate for our members, it was important to me that we also gave our members a way to fulfill these requirements", said Kevin Corcoran, EBAA's president and CEO. "Digi-Trax has been an outstanding partner throughout this process; Cornea-Trax does everything we need it to, and they have been very receptive to our suggestions throughout the development process. I am very excited to offer Cornea-Trax to my members."

John Kling, Digi-Trax Corporation's Executive Vice President says "We are thrilled to be able to partner with EBAA and its members with our CorneaTrax product. Working with EBAA on this project has been very exciting. We look forward to the many benefits CorneaTrax will provide EBAA members. "

About EBAA: The Eye Bank Association of America (EBAA), established in 1961, is the oldest transplant association in the nation and champions the restoration of sight through corneal transplantation. Its 76 member eye banks operate in the United States, Canada and Asia. These eye banks made possible more than 70,000 sight-restoring corneal transplants in 2014.
